INTRODUCTION

CRIME IN WASHINGTON STATE 1981 is the second annual publication compiled by the Washington Uniform Crime Reporting program (WUCR). WUCR and this report was partially funded by the Bureau of Justice Statistics, Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the United States Department of Justice authorized under the Crime Control Act of 1973, through grants DF-80-65-6038 and 82-BJ-CX-0003. While the grant has been assigned to the Washington State Patrol, administration of WUCR is the responsibility of the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs (WASPC) as sub-grantees. WUCR is unique in that it is the only state UCR program that is sponsored, administered, and supported by an organization of contributing agency administrators, rather than a bureau or department of state government.

WASHINGTON UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING PROGRAM

Data for CRIME IN WASHINGTON STATE 1981 are compiled from monthly UCR documents, submitted by law enforcement agencies throughout the State of Washington. UCR is a national program for the collection of crime and arrest trend information from sheriffs offices and police departments that was developed by the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) in 1929. While IACP originated the program and continues to exercise policy control through its Committee on Uniform Crime Records, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) has been responsible for the administration of the program, the collection of data, and the publication of reports since 1930. WUCR was activated in October, 1979 and began the collection of monthly reports from contributing agencies in January, 1980. At the present time the program is operated manually. However, a computer program designed to provide automated data input processing and magnetic tape output is scheduled to become operational by the end of 1982.

WUCR PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the WUCR program are to implement and administer a uniform system of collecting crime and arrest statistical data from law enforcement agencies in the State of Washington. WUCR data, when compiled and evaluated, can provide the following information to law enforcement departments, other members of the criminal justice system, local, county, state and national agencies;

1. the number of crimes reported,
2. the geographical distribution of reported offenses,
3. the identification of the reported crimes that increased or decreased,
4. the identification of differences in volume, increases and decreases between reported offenses,
5. the number and clearance rate for reported offenses,
6. the number of arrests by charge, age, sex and ethnic origin of arrestees,
7. the number of law enforcement officers assaulted,
8. the number of commissioned and civilian law enforcement employees by sex.

CRIME FACTORS

Several factors affect the type and amount of crime that is reported to WUCR. A roster of these factors which should be considered when making comparisons of agency data appear in Crime in the United States, Uniform Crime Reports, 1980, and are listed for the convenience of WUCR data users;

1. the density and size of community population, and of its surrounding area,
2. the variations in composition of the population, particularly age structure,

3. the stability of population with respect to transient factors,
4. the economic conditions, including job availability,
5. the cultural conditions, such as educational, recreational and religious characteristics,
6. the climate,
7. the effective strength of law enforcement agencies,
8. the administrative and investigative emphases of law enforcement,
9. the policies of other components of the criminal justice system (i.e., prosecutorial, judicial, correctional and probational),
10. the attitudes of citizenry toward crime,
11. the crime reporting practices of citizenry.

CRIME INDEX AND CRIME RATE

TABLES 1 & 2

The number of murder and non-negligent manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny-theft offenses reported comprise the FBI Crime Index. The number of offenses reported in relationship to the population is called the Crime Rate. (See "Crime Rate" in the glossary section for a definition and method of computing this type of information). In this report data from those agencies which reported for all months in both 1980 and 1981 are used to compile these tables. However, all departments that reported in 1980 and 1981 are shown in the Part 1 Crimes and Clearance tables, located in the appendix section.

Example:[@]

a. Population of jurisdiction 75,000
b. Number of reported burglaries for the jurisdiction for the time period under consideration is 215
   Divide: 75,000 by 100,000 = .75
   Divide: 215 by .75 = 286.7
   The burglary rate is 286.7 per 100,000 population.
